Practice & Assessment Gui
Strengthening	The Dementia practice guidelines for HACC assessment services provide dementia-assessment and Care-	specific information and practical guidance for assessors from HACC assessment planning: Dementia	services to improve assessment, care planning and service provision for people with practice guidelines for	possible dementia and their carers.
HACC assessment
services (Department of	Link: Dementia Guidelines - PDF
Health Victoria)
Grey Matters: A guide for	The Grey Matters guide is a local resource for people living in the Grampians Region.
Living Well with Memory	The guide is intended for those who are concerned about their memory, who have Loss and Dementia in the	dementia and for carers and family of people with dementia. The guide provides information on the types of dementia, risk factors and prevention, diagnosis Grampians Region
(Department of Health	pathways, community support assessments and services, therapies and advance
Grampians Region	care planning.
Victoria)
	Link: http://www.wimmerapcp.org.au/hacc/hacctwopage/Dementia/index.aspx
At home with dementia:	This publication presents a range of possible solutions to problems commonly faced
A manual for people with	by people with dementia living at home and ways of approaching and solving dementia and their	problems at home using a person-centred care approach. The information is carers (NSW)	primarily for carers and is also useful for dementia support workers, occupational
, ,	therapists and staff of home maintenance and modifications schemes.
	Link: At Home with Dementia - PDF
Helpful handbook for	This publication is intended as a reference for people in the early stages of memory
Memory Loss	loss as well as their family / friends. It contains information on products and devices
(Alzheimer's Australia	as well as tips and hints for managing the effects of memory loss.
· ·	,
and Independent Living	Topics covered in the book include: preparing for the future, around the home,
Centre)	communication and conversing, remembering things, cooking, safety and products lists.
	Link: Helpful Handbook for Memory Loss - PDF
Worried about your	The Worried about your memory booklet focuses on memory and aims to help memory booklet and	answer some of the questions that are commonly asked of staff at Alzheimer's checklist (Alzheimer's	Australia.
Australia)	Both the booklet and the brochure provide a memory concerns checklist. The checklist is a useful resource for assessment staff involved with clients who are concerned about their memory. The checklist can be taken to the doctor and is a good starting point for discussing any worries.
	Link: Worried About Your Memory Loss - PDF
	Link: Worried About Your Memory Checklist - PDF
Dementia: Osborne Park	This booklet was developed as an Occupational Therapy Department quality
Hospital Guide for	improvement project, at Osborne Park Hospital W.A. The majority of the Guide is
-
Occupational Therapists	devoted to identifying common issues or problems associated with dementia, and in Clinical Practice (WA)	to outlining evidence based strategies that Occupational Therapists can consider to address these issues. It covers a wide range of activities and functions including home and hospital design, activities of daily living, mobility and falls, communication, wandering, and transport and driving. The final chapter provides information to assist when advising families on community based resources, or residential care options.
	Link: Osborne Park Hospital Guide - PDF
Younger Onset	This publication draws together information on younger onset dementia and
Dementia: a practical	provides practical information for those newly diagnosed as well as their families guide (Alzheimer's	and carers. Sections include: About younger onset dementia, Practical approaches Australia)	to management of dementia, The caring role and the family, Planning for the future.

	Link: A Practical Guide - PDF
	Other Resources:
	Link: http://www.alzheimers.org.au/services/further-reading-and-resources.aspx
Dementia and the caring	Dementia and The Caring Experience is designed to help people who are caring for a experience (Department	family member or friend who has dementia.
of Health and Ageing)	The handbook contains information and ideas, while at the same time recognising that family and carers will have different experiences of caring for a person with dementia.
	demenda.
	Link: Caring Experience - PDF
Living with Dementia	The Living with Dementia booklet is written for people with dementia. The booklet (Department of Health	gives an introduction to memory loss, practical advice on living with dementia, how and Ageing)	to tell family and friends and planning for the future.
	Link: Living with Dementia - PDF
Guidelines for the	Part One provides information on Western versus Indigenous concepts of family, life delivery of culturally	cycle and health. Part Two highlights and discusses culturally appropriate and sensitive and flexible	accessible counselling for Indigenous carers, incorporating discussions on counselling for Indigenous carers (Carers	accountability, self-determination, respect for Indigenous ways, counselling environment and building relationships. Part Two further explores key counselling Victoria)	models, in particular systemic family therapy, narrative therapy and to a lesser ,	extent, art therapy.
	Link: www.carersvic.org.au
Talking with your older	A resource for clinicians and health professionals to assist them in communicating patient (National	successfully with older people and identifying their needs. It also provides advice on Institute on Ageing US)	communicating with the older persons family and carers.
	Link: Talking patients about cognitive - Website
On-Line Training Resource
Dementia Training Study Centre	Dementia Training study centres offer a set of freely available and fully online dementia education resources designed by leading academics who are experts in Centre	dementia care. The on-line modules aim to improve the knowledge and skills of health professionals working with people who have dementia and their family carers.
	Link: http://dtsc.com.au/dementia-training-study-centres/elearning/
Grampians Loddon	This portal is a collaborative venture between Grampians and Loddon-Mallee health
Mallee e3 learning	services and Grampians home and community care (HACC) agencies. The portal offers a variety of dementia learning resources.
	Link: http://glm.e3learning.com.au/
Policies, Strategies & Fram
KPMG: Strengthening	This guide was developed as an action item of the National Dementia Initiative. The Dementia Pathways	Dementia Initiative is the Australian Government's response to addressing the Guide 2011	needs of people living with dementia. The guide aims to inform and assist jurisdictions with service planning, by developing service pathways. The guide describes the services required to meet the needs of people living with dementia and their carers across the dementia continuum. Service pathways are useful as a planning tool to encourage key service providers to participate in planning activity and to coordinate service responses.
	Link: Strengthening Dementia Pathways Guide 2011 - PDF
The National Framework	This framework provides a vision for quality dementia care by seeking to address for Action on Dementia	the challenges of the predicted increase in numbers of people with dementia. The 2006-2010. (Australian Health Ministers'	Framework has provided an opportunity to create a strategic, collaborative and Conference)	cost-effective response to dementia across Australia.

	Link: Action on Dementia 2006-2010 - PDF
Dementia framework for	This report provides a summary of activities that have occurred across Victoria since
Victoria 2006-2010:	the launch of the Dementia framework for Victoria implementation plan in 2006.
Implementation report	The activities demonstrate the ongoing and increasing commitment to supporting (Department of Health	and providing services for people with dementia and their families and carers.
Victoria)
	Link: Implementation Report - PDF
Strengthening diversity	This guide supports organisations to implement diversity planning and practice planning and practice: A	across the Home and Community Care (HACC) program. The guide outlines key guide for Victorian Home	concepts and provides information, resources and tools to plan for and improve and Community Care	service responses to diversity within each organisation's catchment.
services (Department of	Service responses to diversity within each organisation's eaterment.
Health Victoria)	Link: Diversity Guide - PDF
Strengthening diversity	The Regional diversity plan informs the local approach to maximising access to
,
planning and practice:	services for the HACC special needs groups, informs the allocation of resources for Grampians Regional	improved service access and outcomes for diverse people, and influences the
Diversity Plan 2012-15	diversity plans developed by individual HACC funded agencies
(Department of Health
Grampians Region	Link: Diversity Plan - PDF
Victoria)
Research & Evaluation
Out of the Shadows
Out of the shadows	The Out of the Shadows Project, undertaken by the Royal District Nursing Service report: The development	The Out of the Shadows Project, undertaken by the Royal District Nursing Service (RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in report: The development	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in report: The development of a best practice model	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community.
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS)	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS)	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis.
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS)	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis.
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a focus on improving the care that patients receive at the service level.
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's Australia)	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a focus on improving the care that patients receive at the service level. Link: Timely Diagnosis of Dementia - PDF This discussion paper for Alzheimer's Australia looks at the reasons for why a new report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's Australia) Respite Care for People Living with Dementia:	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a focus on improving the care that patients receive at the service level. Link: Timely Diagnosis of Dementia - PDF This discussion paper for Alzheimer's Australia looks at the reasons for why a new approach to dementia care is needed. The objective of the recommendations put
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's Australia) Respite Care for People Living with Dementia: "It's more than just a	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a focus on improving the care that patients receive at the service level. Link: Timely Diagnosis of Dementia - PDF This discussion paper for Alzheimer's Australia looks at the reasons for why a new approach to dementia care is needed. The objective of the recommendations put forward in this paper is to increase flexibility in the provision of respite care so that
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's Australia) Respite Care for People Living with Dementia:	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a focus on improving the care that patients receive at the service level. Link: Timely Diagnosis of Dementia - PDF This discussion paper for Alzheimer's Australia looks at the reasons for why a new approach to dementia care is needed. The objective of the recommendations put
report: The development of a best practice model of care for people living with dementia (RDNS) Timely diagnosis of dementia: Can we do better? (Alzheimer's Australia) Respite Care for People Living with Dementia: "It's more than just a short break" (Alzheimers	(RDNS) aimed to address some of the challenges facing the role of district nurses in the care of people with dementia in the community. This report details the work undertaken in phase two of the project. The objective of phase two was to develop a best practice Model of Care designed to support the needs of district nursing clients with dementia, their families and carers incorporating screening, assessment, management and referral processes. Link: Out of the Shadows - PDF This report for Alzheimers Australia emphasises the difficulty of diagnosis of dementia and identifies through extensive research the barriers to timely diagnosis. The report provides strategies aimed at reducing the GP and systemic factors with a focus on improving the care that patients receive at the service level. Link: Timely Diagnosis of Dementia - PDF This discussion paper for Alzheimer's Australia looks at the reasons for why a new approach to dementia care is needed. The objective of the recommendations put forward in this paper is to increase flexibility in the provision of respite care so that it is driven more by consumer needs and choice and is less by fixed program